Experience

Internship Project – Zhiyuan Enterprise Group Inc.

Frontend Developer - Distributor Management System

- Designed and developed user interface prototype in Figma for the Distributor Management System.
- Built responsive and reusable React components based on approved prototypes and project requirements to support a smooth user experience across devices.
- Collaborated with project leads and team members to maintain design consistency and improve front-end functionality.

Academic Projects

Capstone Project – CoachMe (AI-Driven Fitness Management App)

- Designed a user-friendly interface for CoachMe, an AI-driven fitness management system for trainers and trainees with features focused on scheduling, goal-setting, and progress tracking.
- Led the team in project coordination, task organization, and primarily handled the documentation and preparation of the thesis paper throughout the capstone development process.

Game Development Project – SpellBound (Top-Down Adventure Game)

- Designed and developed a basic top-down adventure game in Unity, where the player explores the map and collects items. Created the environment layout, and user interface using fundamental Unity tools and beginner scripting techniques.
